PhD positions available

Interested to join our research team for four years of your life? That is exactly the time the PhD study takes. Currently, we have open several PhD positions in our Institute. We are open for submissions until the positions are filled (latest 05/03/2020) with PhD starting in September 2020. If interested, as the first step, please get in contact with a potential PhD advisor [2] (send them your cv, motivation letter and contact to someone who may write a recommendation letter), discuss the subject and follow his/her instructions. Do not wait until submission deadline and do this as soon as possible, because the number of positions is limited.
